A producer we discovered with the 2010 vintage is Domaine Servin. They have a number of Premier Cru and village level wines & a superb quality-to-price ratio. I do expect their prices to greatly increase in the next few years. Our cellar also houses a collection from the great house of François Raveneau, through a series of years and appellations. These are big personal favorites of mine. Incredibly precise wines of very distinct character.

~

Two producers at opposite ends of the stylistic spectrum are producing Corton Charlemagne Grand Cru. Lucien Le Moine produces a very modern style white Burgundy with robust fruit intensity and very attractive oak seasoning. The venerable house of Louis Latour has been the standard-bearer in Corton-Charlemagne over the last century - wines of complexity and authority, with very layered personalities. Ripe with pineapple, hazelnuts & white dusty stones - these are incredible wines with white meat game and especially the cheese trolley.

MEURSAULT
2024x	Meursault Ier Cru "Genevrières" Louis Latour 2011	$120	Meursault is one of my brainiest wines these days. A few notes... - '13 and '14 are fantastic vintages - "Genevrières" Ier Cru (Bin 2024x) from Louis Latour is truly complex & satisfying and has no business being this price - Bichot's Meursault-Charmes Ier Cru (Bin 2554) is an extremely showy, flamboyant Chardonnay with great personality and superb presence for food - please do not buy any of the wines from Arnaud Ente – he's my very favorite white wine producer, and I would like to be stuck with him

Jean-Max Roger's Sancerre "Cuvée C.M." (Bin 544) is an excellent example of how strong the 2015 vintage is in Sancerre. The crispness of the Sauvignon Blanc balances well with the plump, bright grapefruit & white peach fruit and beautifully communicates the Kimmeridgian soil.

Condrieu is a tiny appellation in the Northern Rhône Valley producing unctuous & exotic creamy whites from Viognier.

The brothers Bonnefond produced an ultra-expressive wine - Condrieu, Patrick et Christophe Bonnefond "Côte Chatillon" 2014 (Bin 101x) that will pair well with unusual items, raw fish or spicy seafood that haven't met their match.

Grüner Veltliner is an ancient indigenous Austrian grape that is very green tea, jasmine, citrus peel, white pepper and light to medium-bodied in almost all its variations. It serves ideally in the part of the menu with raw seafood and with delicious little fried things like oysters & soft crabs.

Do endure these two crisp whites from the northwest of Spain – bins 2235 & 2127. Both are long and bright and flexible with the Bibei having more aromatics and the Bierzo having more power. Both wines are superb purchases - being unknown has kept their prices fair.

Red Burgundy

There's a reason that there are 3 pages of red wines from Burgundy on the list. We have stocked the cellar with most years but 2009 & 2010 are especially strong. If you want to know what to drink with our menu and Cindy's cooking, throw a dart at these pages (or you can talk to us).

The wines from the vineyards around the village of Gevrey-Chambertin are fueled by dark fruit and a dark minerality. These are wines of a particular masculine and spicy character. I like them best matched with organ meats, richly-flavored & fatty meats and all manner of mushrooms.

Two wines of great beauty from tricky vintages – Chambertin Grand Cru, Nicolas Potel 2007 (Bin 158) and Clos des Lambrays Grand Cru, Domaine des Lambrays 2004 (Bin 441) – from thoughtful and talented producers with great terroir. Both are marvelous, complex, generous & drinking now.

Hubert Lignier's brilliant & sensitive winemaking is what separates the house above & beyond many many growers in the Côte de Nuits. The Morey-Saint-Denis Ier Cru "Les Blanchards" 2007 (Bin 2142) is at once generous & delicate, precise & exuberant. Dark iron rich minerals, tart red cherry pits and a spicy palate beg for rich & interesting cooking.

VOUGEOT
212	Vougeot 1er Cru "Les Cras" Patrice Rion 2009	$215	Clos de Vougeot, because of its variability in quality, is far and away the most under-valued Grand Cru. But the better parcels, in the hands of the best wine-makers, make some of the best wines in Burgundy to age long-term. We have a number of wines from great producers with some bottle age on them. These wines have been unfolding beautifully for years and will continue to do so.

ÉCHEZEAUX
2000	Echézeaux Grand Cru, Mongeard-Mugneret 2012	$260		Jean-Nicolas Méo has to be one of the five most brilliant winemakers in Burgundy for Méo-Camuzet. His wines display more power & precision than I've tasted before. Aromas are at once floral and have a certain truffley minerality. The texture is delicate yet has abundant fine tannins.

There is no bottle of Beaujolais that we offer that I'm not very happy to drink, and the wines from 2015 are flat out historically important - the best vintage since 1976. These wines are absolutely "important" enough for a very special meal.

Hermitage is the ancient home of Syrah in France. The grape has been documented to grow there for more than 1100 years. Hermitage vineyards are essentially sitting like a monk's cap of granite atop a very round hill directly across the river from the town of Tain (where Valrhona chocolate was born and is produced). The best vintages for Hermitage are always when that granite cap is roasted thoroughly in the sun. Years of great heat like 99, 03, 09 & 10 are all exceptional.

~

Côte-Rôtie, M. Ogier "La Belle Helene" 2003 (Bin 313) This is a wine of great purity, soul and spicy, hedonistic character.

Marcel Guigal bottles three single-vineyard Côte Rôtie. Every vintage receives special attention in the vineyard and the cellar. The wines typically spend 42 months in oak casks during their upbringing and often seem to "die" in barrel. A few years later they are reborn when bottled. Uniquely intense and balanced individual expressions; La Turquie is to Beethoven as La Landonne is to Brahms and La Mouline is to Chopin.

I drink (note: drink, not taste, think about, ponder over, etc) more Châteauneuf du Pape's than anything else. Why? For satisfaction, complexity, interest, flexibility with food and a large window of drinkability, a good Châteauneuf-du-Pape is hard to beat. Currently I love the freshness and body of 2006.

Jumilla, El Nido "El Nido" 2011 is a super interesting buy for consumers of California Cabernet. While it has mammoth size & fruit, the wine delivers a darker fruit accent & mellow tannins.

All the Cune wines are bottled and then stored, unlabelled, in the historic cellars. They are stored unlabelled because the labels would quickly deteriorate in the humidity of these cellars. Plus, the bottles might stay there for decades, undisturbed. Before release, the bottles are hand cleaned and labelled. Cune never recorks its library wines. Recorking exposes the wine to the atmosphere and changes it. The wines do not see the light of day from the day they are bottled until they are released.

Notice the wines of Elio Altare, one of the key progenitors of the modernist movement in Barolo that began in the 1980's. His wines are all beautiful and reflect his precise methods in the vineyard as well as his lavish winemaking style in the cellar.

Winderlea "Winderlea Vineyard" (Willamette Valley) 2011 (Bin 2555x) is a wine that, when tasted from barrel, made me think of top notch Volnay Premier Cru – black raspberry fruit, flowers, minerals and white pepper.

Tom Dehlinger has, over the years, been my favorite producer of California Pinot Noir. His wines always have excellent intensity and expression. They show charming fruit but are not alcoholic fruit bombs.

We've chosen a few particularly ageworthy wines to offer in large formats in part because the larger format allows the wines to age more successfully and because of course, it is always more festive to have a big bottle at the table. It is best to allow us some decanting time, or order a bottle a day or two in advance, so we can properly care for it and it can be served as intended, the show-stopping centerpiece of your dinner party.
